

THE NAPEAGUE CAMPING CLUB DOSSIER

Working Draft 1.0

Prepared for XMRT Solutions, Marketing Partners, Buyer Agents, Journalists, and Prospective Purchasers

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

31 Harbor Road is potentially the first publicly marketed residential offering in the history of Napeague Camping Club.

The significance of this offering extends beyond the physical structure itself.

The property represents a rare opportunity to acquire a residence within a historically private waterfront community located in Amagansett, New York, one of the most desirable coastal markets in the United States.

For decades, ownership transfers within the community have largely occurred through internal relationships, family transfers, referrals, and private transactions.

As a result, most Hamptons buyers, real estate professionals, investors, and journalists have little understanding of the community or its unique ownership structure.

This offering provides an opportunity to introduce the broader market to one of the most unusual and potentially misunderstood residential communities in the Hamptons.

CHAPTER 1

WHAT IS NAPEAGUE?

Napeague occupies a unique geographical position between East Hampton and Montauk.

The area serves as a transition zone between two of the most desirable destinations on Long Island.

The region is known for:

- Ocean beaches
- Surfing

- Fishing
- Boating
- Wildlife preserves
- Open space
- Natural beauty
- Low-density development

Unlike many Hamptons communities that have experienced significant luxury redevelopment, portions of Napeague maintain a more authentic coastal character.

Residents often describe the area as one of the last places where old Hamptons culture still survives.

CHAPTER 2

THE INVISIBLE COMMUNITY

Most Hamptons buyers have never heard of Napeague Camping Club.

Many local residents know it exists.

Very few understand how it operates.

Even fewer understand how ownership transfers occur.

This lack of visibility has created a hidden market.

While nearby Hamptons properties frequently appear in public listings, marketing campaigns, luxury magazines, and broker databases, the Camping Club has largely remained outside the traditional real estate ecosystem.

The result is a community that has maintained a degree of privacy rarely found in modern real estate markets.

CHAPTER 3

WHY THIS SALE MATTERS

This is not merely a property transaction.

It is potentially the creation of a public market where one previously did not exist.

Questions this transaction may answer:

- What is the market value of a residence within the club?
- Who is the buyer demographic?
- How should ownership be explained?
- How should these properties be marketed?
- What financing options exist?
- What level of demand exists outside the community?

This sale may establish the benchmark for future transactions.

CHAPTER 4

COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS

Misconception: "It is just a trailer park."

Reality: The community contains a wide range of structures and ownership histories. The value proposition is driven by location, lifestyle, scarcity, and community access.

Misconception: "You don't own anything."

Reality: The ownership structure should be carefully explained through official governing documents. Oversimplified descriptions frequently create confusion.

Misconception: "It is a condo."

Reality: MLS classification systems often force unique ownership structures into categories that may not fully describe the property.

Misconception: "It is impossible to sell."

Reality: The lack of prior public marketing may have limited exposure rather than demand.

CHAPTER 5

BUYER PROFILE ANALYSIS

Primary Buyer Type

The Coastal Lifestyle Buyer

Characteristics:

- Cash buyer
 - Age 40–70
 - Existing homeowner
 - Seeking second residence
 - Values experiences over square footage
-

Secondary Buyer Type

The Hamptons Access Buyer

Characteristics:

- Wants presence in the Hamptons
 - Cannot justify $3M–$10M purchase
 - Understands alternative ownership structures
 - Interested in lifestyle and location
-

Third Buyer Type

The Collector

Characteristics:

- Seeks unusual assets
 - Appreciates historical significance
 - Interested in scarcity
 - Understands nontraditional opportunities
-

Fourth Buyer Type

The Entrepreneur

Characteristics:

- Comfortable with complexity
 - Interested in overlooked markets
 - Values first-mover opportunities
-

CHAPTER 6

THE MEDIA ANGLE

Headline Possibilities

"The Hidden Hamptons Community Finally Opens to the Public"

"The First Public Offering in Napeague Camping Club History"

"A Secret Waterfront Community Emerges from the Shadows"

"The Last Hidden Community in the Hamptons"

"Inside the Private Community Most Hamptons Buyers Never Knew Existed"

Potential Media Targets

- East Hampton Star
- Dan's Papers
- Behind The Hedges
- Hamptons.com
- Newsday
- Curbed
- The Real Deal
- Mansion Global
- Wall Street Journal Real Estate
- New York Post Real Estate

CHAPTER 7

THE CASH BUYER STRATEGY

Assume many traditional lenders will not understand the structure.

Therefore marketing should focus on:

- Existing homeowners
- Business owners
- Investors
- Retirees
- Financial professionals
- Hamptons renters

- Vacation-home buyers

Messaging should emphasize:

- Simplicity
- Lifestyle
- Scarcity
- Privacy
- Community

Not financing.

CHAPTER 8

THE STORY

The most important asset is not the structure.

The most important asset is the story.

For decades this community existed largely outside public view.

Ownership changed hands quietly.

Families passed properties between generations.

Residents protected a way of life.

Now, for perhaps the first time, the broader market is being invited inside.

The sale of 31 Harbor Road represents a rare chance to become part of a community that has intentionally remained different from the rest of the Hamptons.

That story cannot be replicated.

That story cannot be manufactured.

That story is real.

And that story is what should drive every piece of marketing created by XMRT Solutions.